Monterey County has over 500 children in foster care. Every year, Monterey County Department of Social Services receives more than 5,000 reports of suspected child abuse and neglect.

California has the largest number of children in foster care in our nation, making the cost to us staggering.

But the real cost is to the child... it can cost a child her future.

Lighting the Way — The Cotton Club

It is CASA's mission to actively train and support advocates as they "light the way" for youth in the juvenile dependency system. So it was more than just a bit of clever marketing to name our major spring fundraiser just that. Lighting the Way, now an eagerly anticipated annual event, has grown into one of Monterey County's most well attended fundraisers in recent years.

Executive director, Siobhan Greene, and Board Chair, Dave Bernahl, spearheaded Lighting the Way 2005 as CASA of Monterey County's first formal fundraiser with a gala evening at Chateau Julien in Carmel Valley. A magical evening took advantage of this beautiful location, using the Chateau and Conservatory for cocktails and silent auction, and culminating with dinner and live auction in the Chai, amidst towering tea-lit wine barrels. In 2006, Lighting the Way made magic again at Chateau Julien with a completely sold out event.

Having outgrown the Chateau, we made the decision to move locations and change our theme. Thus, Lighting the Way – The Cotton Club was born in 2007. With the support of Hyatt Regency staff, CASA board members, and community volunteers, we transformed the Regency Ballroom into an authentic Cotton Club...complete with Dennis Murphy's big band and featured trumpeter and vocalist, Joe Grandson.

Upon entrance to our Speakeasy, the champagne was bubblin' and the joint was jumpin' with over 300 costume-clad guests. When the ballroom doors opened for dinner, faces lit up with delight and audible gasps filled the air. By the end of the night, Lighting the Way, The Cotton Club raised record funds.

In addition to a dedicated staff and an event committee who work tirelessly to make Lighting the Way succeed each year, support from our major sponsors enables us to make these magical evenings possible. Mike and Marian Rossi, Judie and Bob Profeta, Al and Frieda Saroyan, and Charles and Sandra Chrietberg are a few of our most generous sponsors, and to them we are eternally grateful.

Back by popular demand, we are busily planning Lighting the Way-The Cotton Club 2008, scheduled for April 5th, 2008.
